Cooking something special tonight?

It's my husband's birthday today. I'm making him his favorite soup

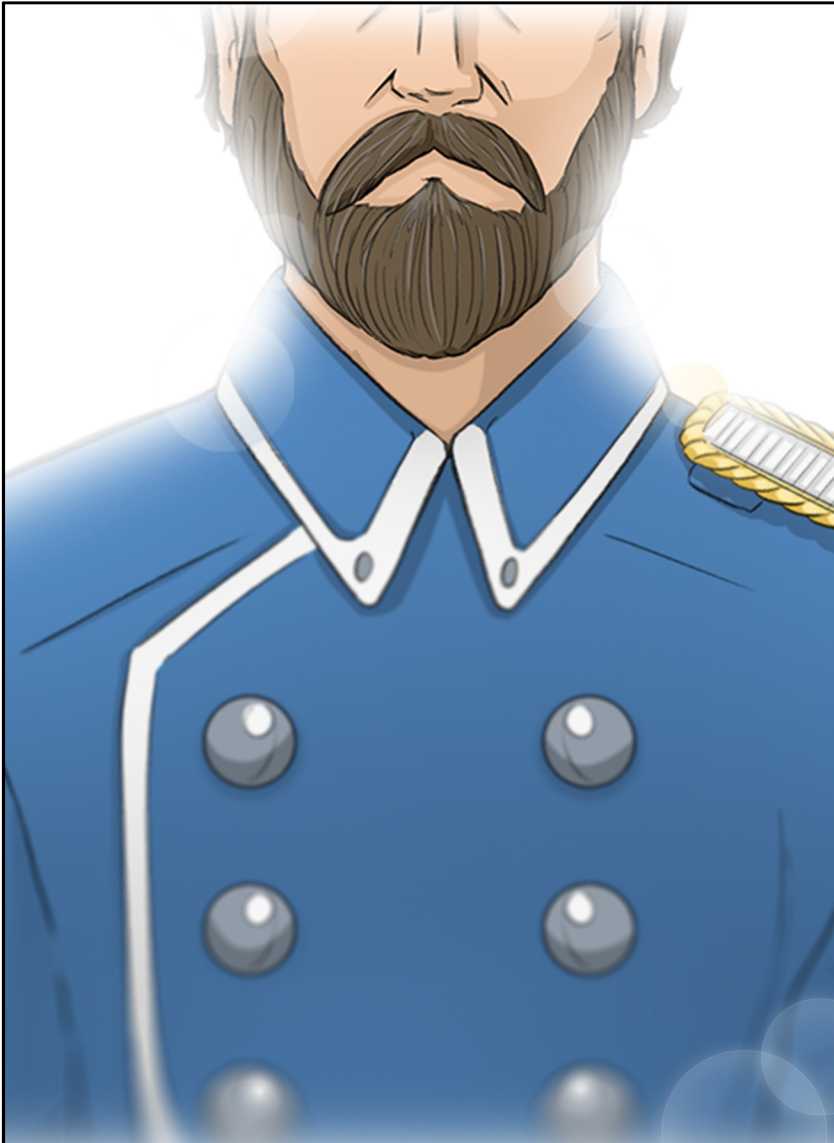

Yes. It's my husband's birthday today. I'm making him his favorite soup

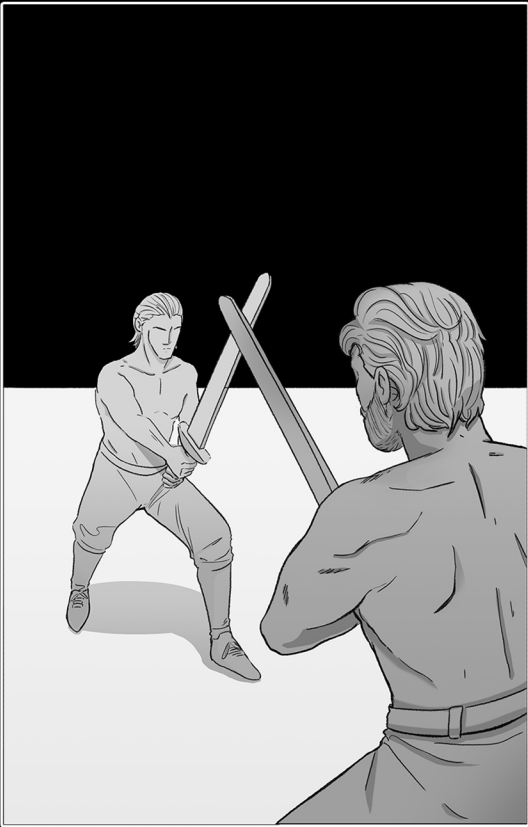

Yes. It's my husband's birthday today. I'm making him his favorite soup

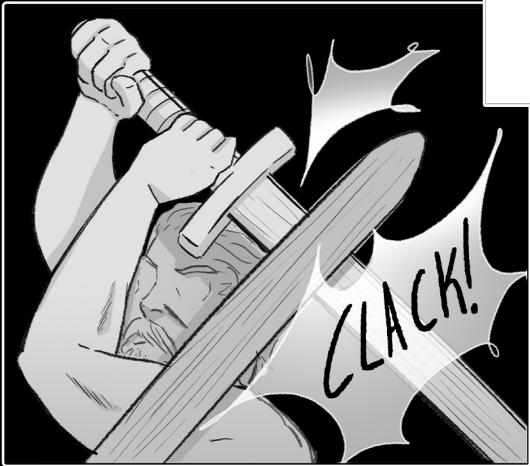

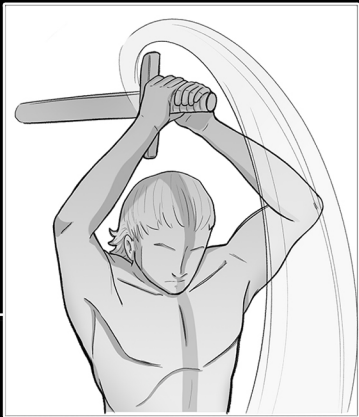

My Husband is a good man

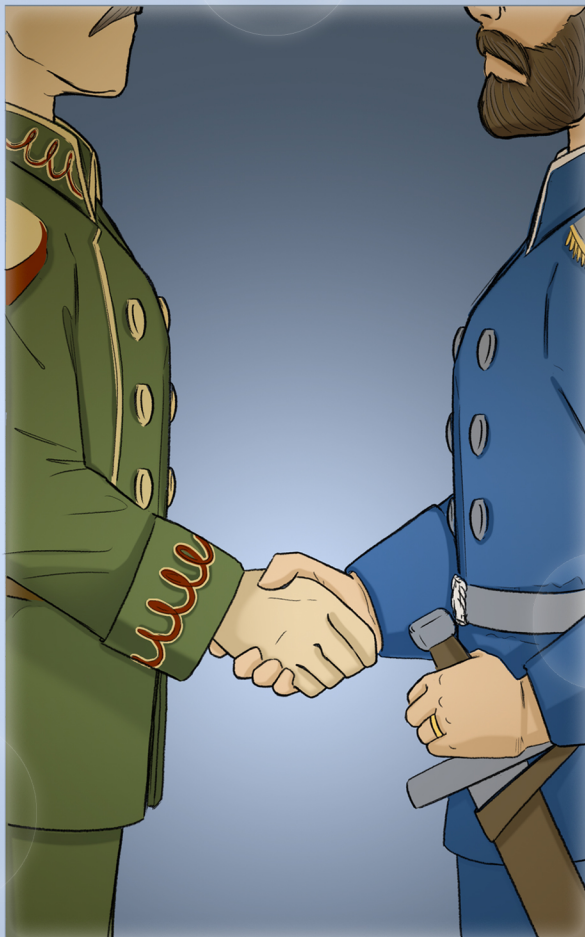

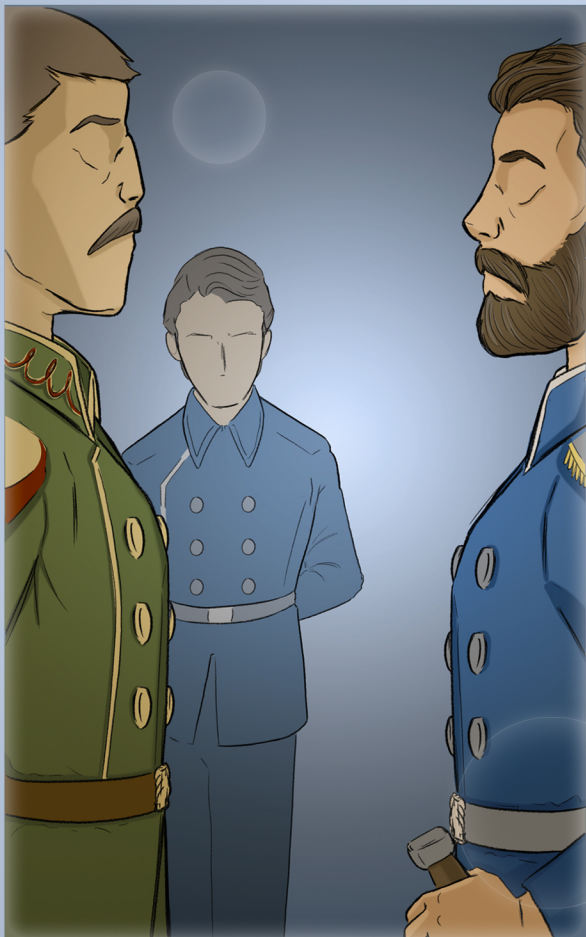

He is honorable and brave

his peers respect him

He is honest and hardworking

(my father adores him)

And he is kind and he is caring

(my sister is envious for him)

I love him but...

there is a sadness in him that I don't think will ever leave from when his first love passed away several years ago

...and though I know he loves me

A part of me also knows...

It will never be as much as I love him
